DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, 8, 10, 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Flynn (6435780).

Flynn (6435780) discloses a tool for cutting materials comprising a rotatable body with a rotation axis and cutting edges for cutting the material during movement of the body in a first direction parallel to the rotation axis; the cutting edges (20, 22,24) comprise inner cutting edges (30,32,34) laying on a first surface of revolution which is in the first direction higher at a larger diameter and lower at a smaller diameter. Also an outer edge forming a cutting tooth (18) is disclosed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 3724

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 6, 7,9,11 and 14-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Flynn (6435780).

In regard to claims 6 and 7 it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to use the claimed dimensions since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955). It appears that there would be no new or unexpected result from such a modification.

In regard to claims 7, 9 and 11, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the claimed ranges since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

In regard to claims 14 and 16, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to locate the elements in the claimed manner since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70. It appears that there would be no new or unexpected result from such a modification.

With respect to claim 15, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the claimed number of elements since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8. It appears that there would be no new or unexpected result from such a modification.

With respect to claims 18 and 19, to perform the method as claimed would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, in view of the teachings of Flynn (6435780), since all the claimed elements were known in the prior art and one skilled in the art could have combined the elements as claimed and use them in an off the shelf method known to those in the industry with no change in their respective functions, such that the claimed method steps would perform their known functions and the combination of steps would have yielded nothing more than predictable results to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
